Journalistic Role Performance in Hungary

The paper introduces the preliminary results of an empirical examination on journalistic role performance in Hungary. Connecting to the „Journalistic Role Performance Around the Globe” research network (led by Claudia Mellado), the paper attempt to discuss the main patterns of the role performances in the contemporary journalism in Hungary. The presence of six models in news production (watchdog, disseminator-interventionist, civic, loyal-facilitator, service journalism, and infotainment) is investigated by conducting a content analysis of 1020 news items published by the national desk of four national Hungarian broadsheets in 2012-2013.
